

EUROPE 2023

4 months | 6 countries | 8 house swaps | 10 journey legs

Hungerford

Overnight rain persisted into a drizzly day today in England. We ventured into town and strolled along the canal for some exercise. Afterward, Heather treated me to a quick window shopping session before we headed back to our hotel room. While I indulged in watching football replays, Heather satisfied her penchant for detective shows. Tomorrow, we look forward to catching up with football mates in London.

