Wembley

A quick tour around Ken's music den and a few minutes to decide which Australian shirt he should wear was followed by 2 hours of walking football bliss this morning. Great to get some much needed exercise and to meet a great bunch of guys.

Heather greatly enjoyed her Vegemite on toast. According to her, Ken, ex-Irish man, turned Aussie, surely knows in which country his loyalties lie when he has Vegemite in the pantry.

We drove the hour across the city to our hotel right next to Wembley Stadium and dropped our hire car off at the local depot. A walk of about 40 minutes back to our hotel sees us now setting up here for the next 10 days as the Australian team members trickle in.
